

Human milk helps babies with healthy growth

Feed your baby only human milk or formula for the first 6 months

Continue feeding with human milk during the first year and beyond, if possible

Use iron-fortified formula for the first year if you can't use human milk

