Tree Work Planned for Top of Gilman Street

On Wednesday, May 25, a Maine Medical Center contractor will be taking down several large pine trees at the top of Gilman Street.

One of the trees has been partially uprooted and is danger of falling and the others are dead and also pose a safety hazard.

To complete this work, the tree service contractor has received city approval to block six parking spots for about six hours, beginning at 7:30 a.m. There will be some noise associated with this work.
