- Any infectious disease or malignancy found during the first two years post donation may need to be reported to public health authorities and will be reported to the recipient transplant center, and the Organ Procurement Transplant Network.
- The agreement of the potential donor to commit to postoperative follow-up testing coordinated by the transplant center that removed the donor's kidney for a minimum of two years.
- A disclosure that living donor follow-up is the best method for the collections of information on the long term health implications of living donation.

11. For Shipped Living Donor Organs (This section needs to be completed if the potential living donor's kidney may be shipped to another transplant center)

The following information has been communicated to the potential living donor:

- If the living donor's organ will not be transplanted at the recovery center, there is an increased risk for organ loss associated with transport.
- There is separate consent (included at the end of this document) if the potential living donor is willing for his/her organ to be transplanted at a center other than the recovery center.

12. For Non-Directed Donors (This section needs to be completed for non-directed living donors only)

If the potential living donor intends to be a non-directed donor, the following information has been communicated to the potential living donor:

- Potential donor has been informed of the option to participate in KPD.
- In kidney paired donation, non-directed donors will be matched to candidates by a computer program.
- There is a separate consent (included at the end of this document) for the non-directed donor to participate in a kidney paired donation program.
- Non-directed donations to a candidate waiting for a deceased donor kidney will be done in accordance with UNOS Policy 14.6B: Placement of Non-directed Living Donor Kidneys.

13. Logistics of KPD

The following has been communicated to the potential living donor:

- Donor may travel to recipient center or donor kidney may be shipped to recipient center.
- Donor surgeries usually being at the same time in two-way or three-way exchanges. Recipient surgeries begin after donor surgeries.
- In donor chains, surgeries might not occur simultaneously.
- A donor may help more than one recipient receive a transplant through a paired donation chain.
- A recipient/donor pair can choose to only be matched in two-way or three-way exchanges.
- KPD donors and recipients do not choose their match.
- Donors may need to wait to find a suitable recipient match within a KPD match and/or may need to wait longer to donate after a match has been identified due to logistical issues.
- A KPD donor or candidate may decline a match.
- If the operating room date is not set for a chain at the time of the next match run but the cross-matches have been performed and the donors have been approved up to the point where the chain breaks, then the final donor could be entered in the next match run to repair the chain. In order for the final donor to be included in the next match run, the donor must agree to be in the match run instead of donating to the deceased donor waiting list at that time. Blood type O non-directed donors may be in a position to choose to donate to a shorter chain or to wait for another match run with the possibility of finding a longer chain.

14. Anonymity Between Pairs

The following has been communicated to the potential living donor:

- KPD pairs are kept anonymous prior to transplant.
- The Maine Transplant Program Policy on Information Sharing and Direct Contact Between Living Kidney Donors and Recipients has been reviewed.

15. General Information for KPD Donors

The following has been communicated to the potential living donor:

- All living donors, including KPD donors, are evaluated and cleared for donation according to standard medical criteria and program selection criteria.
- Maine Transplant Program donor selection and matching requirements have been explained.
- Transplant centers will determine if the donor kidney in an exchange is appropriate for the recipient.
- KPD donors will be paired with compatible recipients using an electronic system that maximizes the number of matched pairs while providing additional consideration for specific populations, such as children and highly sensitized recipients.

16. Possible Untoward Events

This is not an exhaustive list of possible untoward events. The following has been communicated to the potential living donor:

- An event may occur in the operating room that makes it necessary to stop a donor procedure. In this case, one recipient would not receive a kidney. If a donor or recipient surgery has begun, this surgery will continue even if another surgery in the match must stop.
- If it is necessary to stop a recipient surgery, a kidney would be available. This kidney would be given to a recipient on the deceased donor waiting list according to OPTN policies.
- If the exchange fails there is no added priority for the paired candidate on the deceased donor waiting list.
- It is possible that a donor's kidney could be lost in transport or logistical issues may occur related to shipping a kidney.

KIDNEY PAIRED DONATION LIVING DONOR CONSENT

17. Commitment of Pairs to Exchange

The following has been communicated to the potential living donor:

- Participants may withdraw at any time for any reason.
- Donors and potential recipients are strongly encouraged to ask questions and to discuss all aspects of the exchange with the transplant team and other health care providers in order to make a solid informed decision whether or not to participate.
- Recipient/donor pairs should discuss KPD with their caregivers and family.

18. Bridge Donors

- A bridge donor may need to have another medical evaluation at a future time.
- S/he may need to be available to provide blood on multiple occasions for cross matching.
- The logistics and plan for donation and transplantation will be shared with the donor to inform him/her of the size of the chain and planned chain end.
- Timeline on the wait for surgery for the bridge donor will be discussed as steps are taken to facilitate donation as quickly as possible and avoid a lengthy wait or withdrawal by the donor.
- Bridge donors must verbally consent to remain a bridge donor each time the donor is identified as such in an accepted KPD exchange.
